there are much differences in Hindko & Panjabi, the way of communication and pronouncing any word, the styles and accent are totally different. most of the People talk in Punjabi. Punjabi is much older than hindko and it's often speak in Attock.

Slaam,
i m not agree with that the attock people speak in hinko its a mixture of hinko,saraeky,punjabi and pushto as well. so we can call it pure chachi language.
but even in chach people speak in a different style(accent) like we mashraqi chachi mostly say ke hoyeh kissahn and maghrabi chachi say ki hoyah eh ka eh yahn
