The Prophet said, any believer, male or female that rises at night to pray sincerely for Allah, does his ablution then stands humbly in prayers with genuine intentions and a good heart and tearful eyes, Allah will send angels to pray behind him in nine rows. Allah, the exalted will only know the count of each row of angels, because one end of the row is in the east and the other in the west. And when he finishes praying Allah will for each angel present, write down the rewards equivalent to that of a good deed.
